2022 NYSF Year 12 Program

Registrations open!

Join one of Australia's most well-known science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) programs for students aged between 16 and 18.

The NYSF Year 12 Program offers an exciting range of digital science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) experiences, including health and medical sciences, to help students select their university study and career options.

If you are in your last two years of school before university, apply now! Meet Australian students, share career and study ideas, and hear from leading Australian and international STEM professionals.

When: weekdays from 10 to 25 January 2022, AEDT

Apply online by 31 October 2021
